From One Day To The Other

CHEERFULNESS TAUGHT BY REASON.

"I think we are too ready with complaint in this fair world of God's. Had we no hope indeed beyond the zenith and the slope Of our grey blank of sky, we might be faint To those upon eternity's constraint Round our aspirant souls. But since the scope Must widen early, is it well to droop For a few days' command in loss and grief? O pusillanimous heart, be comforted. And, like a cheerful traveller, let the road Singing beside the hedge. What if Be better in thine inn, and thou unshot To meet the dimes? At least it may be said, 'Because the way is short I think These, God.'" Elizabeth Barrett Browning.

A BRILLIANT EVENT.

Ontario Journal.—The much anticipated and most brilliant wedding of the week occurred today in St. Andrew's Church, when Miss Doris Oliver, second daughter of Hon. Sir John Oliver, Minister of the Interior, and Mrs. Oliver, was united in marriage to Mr. John Jamieson Anderson, of Edmonton. Long before the hour appointed for the ceremony a throng of interested spectators surrounded the approach to the church, and the numerous guests as they arrived were escorted by one on the arm of a dainty usher. The church was picturesquely decorated with lovely floral effects in white lilies, carnations and roses interspersed with tall graceful palm and fronds of green aspidistra and trailing white ivy. Rev. Dr. Herridge, pastor of St. Andrew's, performed the ceremony. Mr. P. S. Jenkins played most divinely during the interval of waiting for the bride, the Swedish March by Rodemann, and "Large" World Symphony, also "Salt of Amour" preceding the bridal march from Liszt, which peaked forth as the bride, a petite and dainty figure, entered with her father. Attired in a Worth gown in Princess of very beautiful fine silk net, embellished in a design of Flemish floral effects, worn over a thing foundation of chiffon and tulle of delicate lace, the skirt having a panel outlined with broad satin bands, terminating in "true love's" knots of satin, the bodice arranged with folds of chiffon and satin edged with a sparkling jewelled applique, and carried back and front with Empire buckles, the sleeves were things of beauty, with rows of tiny ruffles, the whole gown was covered with tiny ruffles of satin in small circles. She wore the usual well-arranged by a circle of orange blossoms. Her bouquet was a magnificent arrangement of lilies of the valley, and her finger held the groom's gift—an exquisite hoop of diamonds and sapphires. Miss Claire Oliver and Miss Mary Deane, daughter of Justice Deane, of Winnipeg, were a pair of lovely bridesmaids, gown alike in ciel net de soie, corsages of net with bretteles and yoke of baby Irish lace and giraffe and snail of pale blue satin. The skirts were plaited, and trimmed with tulle in Queen Anne design, caught with clasp of self-colored satin. Their hats were much admired, and were Harrison Fisher style, made of Irish lace in ciel blue, with large nodding black ostrich plume and wide bow of ribbon, with long ties of blue satin tied under the ears. Beautiful bouquets of sunset roses and lilies of the valley completed these charming costumes. They were the groom's gift, exquisite topaz pendants attached to a tiny gold chain. Mr. Duncan Anderson, brother of the groom, was best man. The ushers were Mr. W. L. Mackenzie King, Mr. Hammet Hill, Mr. Ian Breaker, and Mr. G. M. Watson, who were the bride's gifts, gold pins in a Greek design. During the signing of the register, Mr. J. McCormick Clark's rendition of "Piano's Wedding Bells," beginning "Roses and bells unite this happy day," was listened to with much pleasure by the large number of guests assembled. A most delightful wedding reception followed. Mr. and Mrs. Anderson being showered with congratulations and good wishes. A most magnificent collection of wedding gifts were arranged suitably, and testified to the popularity and little lady, who is much loved and admired in the Capital, is held. Unique gifts came from the west in the shape of magnificent specimens of black bear, brown bear, large and small.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson left on the five o'clock train for Montreal, whence they sail by the Virginian to Europe. Mr. and Mrs. Anderson, who are a couple of months. Mrs. Anderson travelled in a rooming house and the very vest of satin worn with green and gold and finished with mother-of-pearl buttons. Her hat was of blue satin moiré with a becoming arrangement of brown and white and exquisite paradise plumes. Mrs. Anderson will return to the Capital after their voyage and before they leave for their future home in Edmonton, where Mr. Anderson is manager of the Union Bank and where they will be welcomed by a host of friends, the west being a lovely creation of black and white, and where they will be welcomed by a host of friends, the west being a lovely creation of black and white, and where they will be welcomed by a host of friends, the west being a lovely creation of black and white.

The bride's two younger sisters, Miss Anna and Miss Lucy, were very dainty little pictures, the former in pink outfit, with lace, a dainty white hat and hat of white tulle with pink roses and green foliage. Miss Lucy wore white embroidered gingham and white bonnet, trim with lilies of the valley and long tulle train.

The wedding was attended by all the Cabinet ministers and their wives now in the Capital. Their Excellencies Earl and Countess Grey, being in the company, also the chief, Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Lady Laurier, who are now in Europe, being unavoidably absent.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Breaker and the Misses Breaker, Miss Anderson and Miss Wade.

OPPONENTS OF PRE-EMPTION.

The pre-emption privilege is the outstanding feature of the new Dominion Lands Act, and it is to the pre-emption clauses that attention is chiefly directed. The opinions expressed are as divergent as the interests of the parties concerned in the acquisition and ownership of western lands. Representatives of a considerable number of mortgage corporations, trust companies and the money-lending concerns, as well as presumably do more or less dealing in western lands met in Winnipeg on March last, and considered the pre-emption question. Apparently their conclusion was that the pre-emption interests would not be furthered, permitting the settler to buy land direct from the government at a price of three dollars per acre. They accordingly passed the resolution which appears below.

Winnipeg, March 25, 1907.
Moved by Geo. F. R. Harris, manager, Canada Permanent Mortgage Corporation, Winnipeg.

Seconded by Geo. Manion, manager, London & Canadian Loan & Agency Company, Winnipeg.
That, whereas certain provision contained in a bill entitled "An act to consolidate and amend the Act respecting the Public Lands of the Dominion," at present being introduced before the House of Commons by the Hon. Mr. Oliver, Minister of the Interior, which provisions are more particularly set out in clauses 27 and 28 of said bill, are such as in the belief of the undersigned will prove injurious to the provinces affected, and to the country at large.

Be it resolved, that we, the undersigned representatives of Land Mortgage Corporations, Trust Companies and Life Insurance Companies, lending money on mortgages of real estate in the provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, are of the opinion that the enactment of the particular clauses referred to in the aforesaid bill would be attended by the same injurious results which followed the introduction of the "Second Homestead" system in 1883 and would be against the best interests of the country.

That we further consider that the placing of the price payable for the land under this Act at $100 an acre, will have the effect of depreciating values throughout the country at large, thus injuring every legitimate interest, more especially that of the settler, the value of whose property will be largely depreciated thereby.

That we consider that the existing law, which gives to a homestead settler 160 acres of farm land in consideration of his settlement duties, is a liberal law, and one that is not exceeded by any country in the world with the vast settlement that is coming into this country at the present time we consider it unwise, in the public interest, to give more land than is already given to each settler, as such action will ultimately curtail settlement, and we respectfully submit that the Homestead Law on this point, as it at present exists, should remain unchanged.

WHERE THE WONDER LIES.

H. N. Galer, vice-president of the International Coal and Coke Co., told the coal commission at Coleman that the miners in that mine lost fifty-five years last year because the company could not secure cars enough to haul away the coal. This represented a loss to each man of $250, or for the 600 men employed a total loss of $150,000. To the company it meant the loss of the profit on the coal which the miners should have dug during the two months' enforced idleness. To the public it meant the loss of many thousands of tons of coal at a time when fuel was next to unobtainable, and when the lack of fuel meant suffering, and might easily mean death. In the light of Mr. Galer's evidence, it is not at all remarkable that the miners went on strike and that hundreds of them left the country; that the operation shifted responsibility for the coal shortage on to the C. P. R., and that the public protested. The remarkable thing is that the miners did not strike sooner, or that they did not all leave; that the operation did not join more readily in fixing the blame where it belonged, and that the public limited their protests to language.

ON THE SIDE.

At least the policemen know what the loss thinks of them.

Richard Croker denies that he will become Irish leader in the British Commons. John Redmond, M. P., probably agrees with the prophecy.

Orchard, the self-confessed murder, is a chessman from Ontario. He is one of a few Canadians to whom Uncle Sam is entirely welcome.

Toronto World: "A cheerful disposition will predominate more food than all the medical preparations that can ever be invented." The "pre-digestive disposition" should be come popular.

A Toronto exchange complains of passengers "hogging" the toilet compartments by taking time to shave. Different to the west. The man who tried to shave on a western road would be looked up as dangerous—himself he survived.

Toronto Star: "The disturbance at Calgary, described as a riot, appears to be a conflict between the 'Canadian Pacific Railway' and the 'city of Calgary.' The Star's geography is out. Calgary is not another name for the flourishing town of Olds.

"If the discontent in New Ontario can be removed by good roads, why 'build the roads,' asks the Toronto

Star. Simply because to build the roads would cost money and Northerners Ontario is administered to produce money—not to provide opportunities for spending it.

Mail & Empire—The Census Bureau reports that the output of our "Canadian manufacturers has risen from $441,000,000 in 1901 to $713,000,000 in 1906. This means that we are making for ourselves, instead of importing from abroad, and that a vast population is engaged in the process." Right for once. Even those who faint would scoff are constrained to praise.

PRESERVATION OF RESOURCES.

Norfolk, Va., June 12.—President Roosevelt addressed the National Editorial Association yesterday afternoon and after speaking to them as to their capacity of monitors and guides of public thought, said in part:

"In addition, I want to speak to you on two great movements in our public life which I feel must necessarily occupy no inconsiderable part of the time of our public men in the near future.

"One of these is in regard to certain questions respecting our system of taxation so as to make it bear more heavily on those more capable of supporting the strain. The other is the question of utilizing the general resources of the nation in the way that will be of most benefit to the nation as a whole.

"Hitherto as a nation we have tended to live with an eye single to the present and have permitted the remorse waste and destruction of much of our natural wealth. The conservation of our natural resources and their proper use constitute the real problem upon which our future depends. The conservation of our national life. Unless we maintain an adequate material basis for our civilization, we cannot maintain the institutions in which we take so great a pride and to waste and destroy our natural resources means to undermine this material basis.

"Even such questions as the regulation of railway rates and the control of corporations are in reality subsidiary to the primary problem of the preservation of the interests of the whole people of the resources that nature has given us. If we fail to solve this problem, no skill in solving the others will in the end avail us very greatly.

"All who have thoughtfully studied the subject have come to see that the solution of the public lands question lies with the homesteaders, with the settler who lives on his land, and that government control of the mineral lands and the public grazing lands is necessary and inevitable.

"Now as to the matter of taxation. Most great civilized countries have an income tax, and an inheritance tax. In my judgment both should be part of our system of taxation."

After Indian Pictures and Students.

Toronto, Ont., June 12.—David Boyle, curator of the provincial museum, and C. W. James, private secretary to the minister of education, are going to British Columbia to make a collection of archaeological objects for the museum. On the way they will make an examination and take pictures of Indian drawings, illustrative of events in the history of the various tribes and which are painted on the rocks along the Neptun river. ## A GRATEFUL MOTHER'S MESSAGE.

Zam-Buk Cured My Child of Eczema When All Else Failed.

In gratitude for the great benefit my child received from the use of Zam-Buk, the great healing ointment, Mrs. R. G. Gaultman, of 1060 St. James St., Montreal, gave the following details by publication: "My little daughter Lydia, (2 years), was troubled with eczema on her body and face for six months. During that time we tried almost every remedy, but the disease had not well held of the child for these to overcome, and finally we were obliged to consult a doctor. He treated the little one for some time, and gave me prescriptions for various salves and medicines. We tried them, and at last they well, but the child was no better. When she got warm the itching was terrible, and at the same time made her cry and be very restless. One day somebody strongly advised me to try Zam-Buk. We obtained a supply, and it was really wonderful how the Zam-Buk cured the eczema and gave almost instant relief. It stopped the itching, it dried the sores and in six weeks from first commencing it, the child's skin was as smooth as when born."

Zam-Buk is compounded from rich healing herbal essences, and is an ideal natural combination of power and purity, suitable for the delicate skin of infants.

For summer skin troubles, sore feet, insect stings, chafing, eczema, leucoderma, ulcers, skin eruptions, eczema, etc., Zam-Buk is recommended. It is sold in all drug stores and stores carrying a line, or from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price, 6 boxes for $2.50.

ORCHARD STILL UNDER DYNAMITE-EXAMINATION

Boise, Idaho, June 12.—When the Haywood trial was resumed here yesterday at 9:30 a.m., Harry Orchard continued his testimony of his two deserted wives.

Attorney Richardson continued to question the witness about the attempt to break into the life of Fred Bradley in San Francisco. Orchard said he had been in the house, being able to overlook it from his bedroom window. He had bought some dynamite for a bomb before the attempt to poison Bradley with strychnine in milk which was made. Orchard thought it was the Jaden Powder Company that was the dynamite. He asked the appearance of the clerk who waited on him, Orchard said he was young and looking. In buying the powder Orchard was required to give his name. He could not remember what name, it was a fictitious one. As an excuse for buying ten pounds of dynamite, Orchard told the clerk he wanted to blow out some stumps on his ranch.

"Don't you know there are no stumps within 100 miles of San Francisco?" demanded Richardson. "I know that there are," Orchard gave as nearly as he could a description of the various places where he had lived in San Francisco. He could not remember the names of the streets or the numbers of the houses. Orchard told of a trip he had taken to Clatsop Springs while waiting for Bradley to return from Alaska. "Played cards while there?" "Yes."

"You were a card sharp?" "No, sir."

Orchard was living near the Presidio when he bought the dynamite for the Bradley bomb.

Richardson, in cross-examination, brought out that Orchard contemplated the blowing up of a boarding house filled with non-union men at Clatsop, Ore., in November, 1926. Orchard testified that Max Malich, a storekeeper at Clatsop, asked him to blow up the "scabs."

He did not remember whether he took a box of giant caps to San Francisco or bought them at the Jaden Co. Orchard kept the dynamite in his room and took it with him when he moved to the Washington street, within half a block of the Bradley home.

With the failure of the milk plot, he went ahead and manufactured the bomb. Orchard asked him to blow up the "scabs." He did not remember whether he took a box of giant caps to San Francisco or bought them at the Jaden Co. Orchard kept the dynamite in his room and took it with him when he moved to the Washington street, within half a block of the Bradley home.

Richardson wanted to know if Detective McFarland had attempted to trace the San Francisco location for the witness. "He investigated the powder or dynamite," Orchard brought me a list of the sale of the Jaden Powder Co. and I picked out "Dynamite" as the one I remembered. "Don't you know there was but one man named dynamite that year?"

McFarland showed me several. "But all other names were in the name of a well-known customer of the firm." "There were several," Orchard said he had heard from McFarland about the sale of the dynamite. "The witness said that the explosion was generally attributed to gas, but he thought it was a bomb." "I told him I didn't think so," declared Orchard. Orchard next told of returning to Denver after receiving money from Pettibone. He disguised himself as a soldier and wore glasses. Orchard said he had sent several San Francisco newspapers to Pettibone whom he visited in Denver. He then met Steve Adams and went with him to the Adams family home. Mrs. Adams was cooking the meals. "Didn't Mrs. Adams have to move because he could not pay the rent?" asked Richardson. "Yes. He had plenty of money. The old plan was not satisfactory. Orchard continued to live with the Adams family from before Christmas, 1926, to February, 1928. Orchard said he was reported to Pettibone and Adams, he represented Bradley's condition to be worse than it really was. "You lied, didn't you?" "Yes."

"It was your habit to lie about everything wasn't it?" "Whenever I could," Orchard said. "You have always been as liar, now haven't you?" "I have lied at times since I began to work. And you stated wrong pretty early, didn't you?" "Some time between 25 and 30 years ago," Richardson asked the witness if he sent any money he received for the Bradley affair to either of his wives. Orchard said he had not. He supposed Pettibone was looking out for his wife Cripple Creek wife. "But nobody was caring for your Canadian wife."

The witness seemed to show one of the rare traces of feeling in his voice. "I don't think I was wrong in Cripple Creek, had I not been established in order to be things to eat?" "No, Pettibone had promised to look out for her when I left Colorado." "You talk to Haywood about sending money to the wife?" "Yes."

Orchard said he was in the visit to Pettibone's backyard. "We talked about it the day they wanted me to go to California to get the ranch, he said Haywood. Orchard insisted on his respect of his two deserted wives. Orchard insisted that Haywood and Pettibone had promised to care for his wife in Cripple Creek, but had failed to do so. "When I admitted that he knew his first wife had worked at Cripple Creek for a living, Orchard displayed a feeling before the jury, but this grilling for fifteen minutes, but failed to make much of an effect. It said it was while he was living with Adams that he was detailed by Haywood to help Adams assassinate Judge Gabbert in Denver. "Haywood said he wanted to go to shoot Judge Gabbert because he felt the use of dynamite would get everybody into trouble," said Orchard.

His idea in continuing to kill was to get the ranch, he said Haywood. Orchard insisted on his respect of his two deserted wives. Orchard insisted that Haywood and Pettibone had promised to care for his wife in Cripple Creek, but had failed to do so.

"I don't know about that," Richardson replied to Orchard's gambling prohibitions, asking what sort of gambling Orchard was playing. Orchard said he played bank draw poker, stud poker and black Jack. He decided that he had ever run a gambler and insisted he lost at gambling many times when he was in Oregon. Orchard said he lured about Judge Gabbert's house several nights hoping for a chance to shoot him. "Why didn't you go up and ring the door bell and stamp it into him?" "The cause I was too cowardly."

He never allowed anybody else to call you a coward in those days, did you?" "I don't know," Orchard said.

"You considered yourself a heavy man, didn't you?" "I call all the things I have done cowardly," Richardson asked Orchard as to some of Haywood's public utterances about the time the Pettibone attempts were made, one that the federation did not care who was Governor. "Mr. Haywood often said things outside that he talked about differently to us."

"You were really not so sure of the time I changed and decided to tell the truth." "Yes, I did, up to the time I changed and decided to tell the truth."

At this juncture lunch recess was taken. After recess, Richardson asked Orchard if he had not tried to get Max Malich a man of good repute in Denver, into a plan to blow up a boarding-house full of "scabs" in Clatsop. "No, sir," replied Orchard. "Max Malich tried to get into it." "What did you say?" "I said I would try to help him."

Orchard said he talked to Haywood about the proposed dynamiting and was told not to do it. Where did you go for your first money, you and Steve Adams lived at a motel in Clatsop?" "Yes, sir."

"As a matter of fact, we were not in Clatsop for long. We were in the name of a well-known customer of the firm." "There were several," Orchard said he had heard from McFarland about the sale of the dynamite. "The witness said that the explosion was generally attributed to gas, but he thought it was a bomb."

"I told him I didn't think so," declared Orchard. Orchard next told of returning to Denver after receiving money from Pettibone. He disguised himself as a soldier and wore glasses. with a boarding-house where 150 non-union men lived and in preparation for the murder on black Orchard, Adams, and a man named Joe Malich broke into two mansions and stole 500 pounds of dynamite, which they stashed house at night and buried in their cellars. The crime was about done, Orchard said, because Haywood intervened and forbade to have anything to do with it. In five minutes later, Orchard showed more emotion than any man since he began his testimony. It was when the defense in a rough-drawn digression asked him if he had not directed his wife in Cripple Creek and left her in poverty. Orchard's lips quivered and with tears he stated that he had done so, and said that the federal leaders and promised to care for her in his absence.

SUNSHINE FURNACE

UNBREAKABLE FIRE-PROOF

The lower portion of a fire-proof is usually nearly or partly filled with dead ashes, leaving the live, red-hot coals in the upper part. The result is that the upper portion expands much more than the lower.

This uneven expansion causes a strain too great for a one-piece fire-proof to stand. Sooner or later it will split, allowing precious heat and smoking gases to escape.

But the fire-proof of the Sunshine is constructed to meet this condition. It is in two sections. The upper half expands, as much as necessary, independently of the lower. When cool, it contracts back to its original size, fitting to the lower half perfectly.

And this strong, unbreakable, gas and heat-tight, two-piece fire-proof is just one of the many superior features of the Sunshine.

GENERAL BOOTH IN WINNIPEG

Impressed With British Columbia as a Field for Immigration.

Winnipeg, June 11.—This morning in company with commander Eva Booth, commissioner Nicholas, Col. Higgins, brigadier Ostryou, Howell and Major Page, General Booth passed through Winnipeg on his way to London, after his tour in Japan, where for some time past he has been carrying on a great work. Although he is not looking so well as when he left England, the general stated to a reporter that his health was wonderful. He said he had slept lightly for the past eight or nine days, and had been awake all last night but this he thought was accounted for by the changes of climate and occupation. "Yes, I am wonderfully well," he continued, "although the tour and the incidents of the hour have been a terrible strain. I have been guided and sustained and the campaign has gone on without a hitch. I am quite satisfied with my tour, and I hope it will help to cement the friendly feelings between Japan and our country." "What are your impressions of Canada on this tour?" "I have not changed my view since I have been there last, but I have been greatly impressed by the prospects of British Columbia. It seems to me that there is a vast field there for thousands of people, that is people of the right kind, especially if rightly managed, and assisted in a national way." "Have you the same views on immigration?" "Practically," was the reply. "But you want the right people, and they ought to be managed in a right way. If they want to get the right people, they will have to go about it in a different way. They must be willing to manage the thing in a systematic way, and invest money in the work, the same as they would in any business. The personal interests, party feelings and the desire to glitter under the glare of the popularity of the moment, too often affects the actions of governments, but I don't know if that be the case in Canada. "On returning to England I will make my automobile tour of the country, looking for the far distance for a long time a long time, and will then return to America where I undertake another trip." The Buddhist resolution presented to General Booth when he was at Tokyo and what he greatly prizes is "To Father Booth, Salvation Army. We are looking at you from the far distance for a long time a long time in Philanthropic work and seeing that you have come, we, the great Japanese congress, humbly manifest our highest regard for you and pray for you for the work you are carrying on, and also for your good health."

aged in, and also for your good health."

Ambassador Bryce Addresses Chicago.

Chicago, Ill., June 11.—Ambassador James Bryce, delivered the convocation address at the graduation exercises at the University of Chicago today on "What University Instruction May Do to Provide Intellectual Pleasures for Later Life." Later he received the honorary degree of "Doctor of Laws."

In his address the British Ambassador commented upon the fact that production and transportation have been transformed by science and he asserted that the effect of science is as strongly felt in education.

Sixty years ago, he said, science was not given a prominent part in the curriculum of schools and universities. "All education has two sides," Mr. Bryce said. "It is meant to impart the knowledge, the skill, the habits of diligence and concentration which are needed to insure practical success. It is also meant to form the character, to implant taste, to cultivate the imagination. Every one of us ought to have a second or inner life, over and above that life which he leads among others for the purpose of his vocation. We ought to have some pursuit, or taste, to which he can turn from the daily routine. Whatever the tests or pursuit may be, whether of a higher or common type it is good for him, but, of course, the more wholesome and elevating the taste or pursuit is, so much the better for him. Nothing in the world does there seem to be so large a proportion of the people that receive a university education as here in America. The effects of this will doubtless be felt in the next generation. Let us hope that they will be felt not only in the complete equipment of our citizens for public life and in their warmer soil for civic progress, but also in the pervasion of the essential elements of happiness, a larger capacity for enjoying those simple pleasures which the cultivation of taste and the imagination opens to us all."

Grant to Live in Congress. Winnipeg, June 11.—The Board of Control has decided to place $1,000,000 the estimate as a grant to the Dominion Trades Congress which will convene in Winnipeg in September. Regina, Sask., June 11.—The local committee of arrangements for the big provincial banquet to be Premier Scott on the 21st inst., are being deluged with letters from all parts of the province, written by prominent citizens and associations of associations stating their intention of being present. At a meeting of the committee held last evening over 100 such letters were read, conveying word of parties, who were coming, naming in numbers all the way from an individual to groups of 40, who were arranging for private cars. ## SPORTING NEWS

Plastic Festival at Calgary.

Calgary, June 13.—Billy Stewart announces that he will be in the main auditorium for July 9th and has started in securing one for a big amateur league to be held here on July 10th, open to all amateurs residing in Western Canada. The main events will be in the following classes: Featherweight, middleweight, welterweight, middleweight and heavyweight. The management of this affair are giving a gift medal, value $25, for competition in each class.

Carpeters are at work putting down a good floor and stringing seats and when alterations are completed the building will be an ideal one for such a purpose.

The entries for the events will not close until July 10th, and the weighing in will all be at the rink. The last amateur event of this kind held in Calgary was pulled off in Bull's opera house, two a thing of the past, some three years ago, and proved a great success, as the numbers of entries at that time surprised the management.

International Tennis.

Vancouver, June 13.—The big international lawn tennis tournament will be held this year in Vancouver. The tournament, which is the largest of its kind held in the world, is under the auspices of the North Pacific International Tennis Association and the best players from all the continent will compete. The date set for the tournament is Monday, June 12 and following days until the events are played off and the winners finally decided. At the same time the Vancouver Lawn Tennis club will hold its annual tournament.

LACROSSE RACES.

Lacombe, June 13.—A large number of horsemen have asked for stables for their horses in Lacombe on 20 and 21, the dates of the big race meeting, and it is apparent that big lot of the best horses in the country will enter for the races.

The management have secured round trip railway rates for the dates of the meeting, fare and hotel for the round trip. Arrangements have also been made to hold the Stettler train till 8 p.m., which will make it convenient for people living along this line.

Racing Stables at Calgary.

Allerton, Thursday morning work was begun on the construction of the two racing stables at Victoria Park. Owing to the tenders received for this work being so high, the city is doing the work itself, not hopes to have the buildings completed in time for the fair in July.

RED DEER RACES.

Lacrosse Notes.

The second game in No. 2 district will be at Calgary on June 22nd, against Edmonton. The southern city players have been turning out well at practices and will not be able to plead lack of training in case of defeat.

The All-Canada team, which is on route for Australia, turned down offers for games at both Edmonton and Calgary. The local club offered to pay quite an attractive guarantee and also expenses. The tourists, however, were pressed for time to all engagements previously booked and so passed up the offer from the two Alberta cities.

Vancouver papers are complaining that the British Columbia referees have not been giving that city's team a square deal in the games played so far.

Says the Vancouver World: The brand of lacrosse being played here nowadays bears about the same relation to that of four years ago as thirty cents does to a dollar. And the West-Canter outfit is not improving.

Bill Hanley, of Stratford, was elected captain of the All-Canada team, and in accepting the position exacted a promise from all the members of the team to abstain from the use of tobacco and intoxicants.

Every player on the Australian tour was at first required to put up $250, but this was increased to $250 when it was decided that England should be taken in hand.

John White, the big Indian defense player, is turning out with Cornwall. It is stated he gets $25 a game.

There will be little danger of any of the British Columbia teams getting the Minto cup ever just because they might happen to lose to the Australian tourists, says the Vancouver World.

HAT BEATEN AT LACROSSE.

Medicine Hat, June 13.—A U.S. Ontario lacrosse team easily trounced Medicine Hat yesterday score 4-1. Only a fair crowd turned out for the game.

ONE GAME IN WESTERN CANADA LEAGUE.

Rain Prevents at Lethbridge-Hat and Calgary Tie.

There was only one contest in the Western Canada League yesterday, and it only went five innings and ended in a tie.

The Edmonton-Lethbridge struggle was called off on account of rain, and the sixth shower checked the game. The Calgary-Hat game, at the end of the fifth with the show two to one. Thus the clashing of the two teams was a complete fiasco. The game at the Hat had all the earmarks of being a royal battle between the pitchers. Although only five innings were played, both sides had struck out seven men, and Barnstead five, and each had only allowed one hit. The numerous errors are due to wet grounds, rain having fallen a few hours previous to the game. The score:

Calgary ..... 1000-2-1-4
Medicine Hat ..... 0010-2-1-4
Hulls and Bump. Umpire: McGuicken.

BIG LEAGUE BASEBALL.

National.
Chicago, June 13.—There was only one game in the National League yesterday, wet grounds being the order of the day all over the country, except at Pittsburgh, where the contest went seven innings only, on account of darkness. Pittsburgh won by the following score:

Pittsburgh ..... 002005-5-8-1
Brooklyn ..... 000000-0-3-2
Pittsburgh: Powell and Buslow; Dyget and Schreck. Umpires: Connelly and Hark.

American.
At Boston. R.H.E.
Cleveland ..... 00001700-12-14-2
Boston ..... 000000-0-6-0
Batteries: Thibault and Benia; Glavin, Gherlin, Prentiss and Shaw. Umpire: Staffen and Evans.

At New York. R.H.E.
Detroit ..... 00200001-16-10-5
New York ..... 0000000-3-1-2
Batteries: Mullin, Kilian and Schmidt; Ott, Hoge and Kleinsch. Umpire: Sheridan.

At Washington. R.H.E.
Washington ..... 00000000-1-4-5
Batteries: Patten, Durham, Hughes and Warner and Heydon; Smith and Sullivan and McFarlan. Umpire: O'Loughlin.

Baseball Short Stuff.

Buck Freeman, who was let out by Boston American to Minneapolis, made some runs in the last four weeks.

Vancouver's percentage in the Northwestern league is a nice even 4 games.

Pitcher Olsen, of Spokane, announced that he will leave for the pitcher for that city's team again, and Vancouver will endeavor to cure him for the balance of the season.

The most sensational game thus far in this season was at Hartford, Conn., on Monday, when Trinity college and Wakefield played a thirteen inning tie game. The score was 22 and the college writers never gave a base or bulb.

Louis of Cleveland and Wallace of St. Louis, each with an average of .300, are tied for the American league batting championship. It is rather singular that such formidable batters should be in the same league as New York, and Davis and Murphy of the Athletics, are below the .25 mark.

News: The Lethbridge boys the season of 1906, was a pitcher's battle all the way through. The local team won in the twelfth, and with poor support in the infield at the juncture Montreal won out.

Baltimore, June 13.—The local team inspired by the champions of Toronto, who won by a lead of 3-1.

FOOTBALL.

Weather permitting, Edmonton will take on the crack Canadian eleven at the home of the league tomorrow night, 7:15. Both teams are playing in great form now, and victory goes the margin will be tight.

All Saints' lineup for the Canadian Reserve ended on Friday night will be Marshall, Nield, Garret, Challen, Horland, Herriek, Mager, Fife, Allen, Martin, Shewell, with Yates and Tyler as reserves. Be there with the goods, boys.

The Edmonton city team for tonight's clash with the Canadians will be chosen from: Blain, Allan, Short, Glavin, Nield, Stockton, Jopson, Smith, Christie, Muskel, Deaton, Woodyard.

The two protests entered by the Lethbridge club were not dealt with at all for the reason that Lethbridge representative was Mr. Morrison, who is their team manager. He was authorized to act for his club but other members of the board thought that it would be better to wait and discuss the matter with Mr. Morrison who was much prejudiced, and they will come up again when another representative is at the meeting.

The two protests are: That in Medicine Hat on May 31, during the game when there were two men on bases and the ball was hit to the pitcher and Umpire Knowlton called a foul; and that on May 27, at Lethbridge, Knowlton failed to call a foul ball.

Several other matters came up and were discussed on the motion was also whether the different teams were being within the salary limit and it was moved and seconded that a motion be taken to see that all new players be all the clubs. The difference is that the sign of sign of players to the effect that they are not paying more than the limit.

LACROSSE PRACTICE.

Weather permitting, every member of the Capital Lacrosse club is requested to be on hand for practice at the grounds for practice this evening. The practice of the executive committee will be held after the practice at the Senate cigar store.

RAEMER—PINKSTON.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized in First Baptist Church at 12:30 yesterday, when Miss Marion E. Pinkston, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Pinkston, became the bride of Mr. Edwin J. Raemer, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Raemer, formerly of Edmonton. Rev. Mr. McDonald performed the ceremony. Mr. George Raemer, of Stettler, escorted the groom. The bride, leaning on the arm of her father, entered the church to the strains of the Lohengrin wedding march, played by Mr. Harford, and looked charming in her beautiful wedding gown of white point d'esprit over white silk, and wore the conventional veil and orange blossoms. She was attended by her sister, Miss Alice Pinkston, who wore a very dainty gown of pale blue nansouille de soie, the skirt having a lace panel, the same effect being shown in the bodice, and narrow bands of pale blue velvet making a very effective trimming. She carried a bouquet of cream roses. Mrs. Pinkston, mother of the bride, was dressed in a dark blue voile gown with hat to match. After the ceremony, the guests, numbering about twenty-five, repaired to Morton's Cafe, where a "à la jeune" was served. After the bride out the wedding cake she slipped away to don her travelling costume, a very smart brown voile, Blon suit, with French toque to match. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful presents, which she took to her home, where the happy couple leave on this afternoon's train for Banff, where the honeymoon will be spent, after which they will take up their residence in Stettler.

OBITUARY.

(Contributed.)
By the pain we experience at the death of someone near and dear to us it would seem that we endeavored to shut out from our minds all thoughts of death. But how true it is that everyone who lives must bear the agony of losing someone dear, and dear to them and yet how totally unprepared one seems when it does come.

Death, who is afraid of death, I say;
When my young blood's hot and strong
No terror of death can enter my head,
When life is like a song.

I am singing the song of childhood;
I am glad of the life I see;
Death, what is death? I say.
Death has no terror for me.

Death did you say, someone dead;
Ah, yes, of course, they were old;
It is fitting to die when one has lived.
But I am young and bold; mention not death.

Death, death, why do I hear of death
In every breath of life,
You say I am dead and you're weeping,
I see.

How strange there seems no death to me.

I am living still and the years roll by,
To sorrow and strife I am dead,
Still some dear heart finds a long last sleep,
And then I learn of death.

Death, did you say, yes, I understand,
My broken heart will tell you what's left.
Of a life full of life that tried to live
And not to learn of death.

I will guarantee it for TEN years and give you THREE years to pay for the "PEERLESS" INCUBATOR

Page 13 of my FREE Book tells why the air is always clean inside this one incubator--and why that matters to you

Most Incubator-men talk loud about steady heat and little about Clean Air. I can afford to talk both, and more besides. Because—

The Peerless is the incubator that hatches with clean air,—the incubator that has real ventilation. Now the quality of air an incubator-chicken gets before it is hatched is far more important than the quantity of food it gets after it hatches.

And many a poultry-for-profit venture has gone to smash by the carbon-dioxide route—bad incubator-air. Carbon-dioxide is a deadly gas every egg gives off as it hatches.

Open the ordinary incubator's door and sniff— that suffurous, musty, choking smell is carbon-dioxide; and it is poison to animal life.

There is no smell in a Peerless—the poison is continually flushed out of the Peerless hatching chamber. Remember that for almost go-hundred years the chick breathes what air seeps through the porous shell. If that air is poison-laden, as it is in badly-ventilated ordinary incubators; that chick is stunted, its vitality impaired, its vigor weakened.

It never can thrive as Peerless-hatched chicks, that breathe pure, clean air, do thrive. Remember, too, that this is only one of fifteen plain reasons why the Peerless incubator not only hatches every chick that can be hatched, but gives those chicks the right start.

Every one of the fifteen reasons means the difference between money made and money lost in poultry-raising.

ENORMOUS WESTERN BUILDING ACTIVITY

Winipeg, June 12.—Statistics gathered from 27 towns throughout the west show that buildings actually under way during the month of May, 1907, this is of course exclusive of Winnipeg. In Edmonton alone there is $8,000,000 to be expended in new structures. This wonderful development, great as it is, would be one of the more were it not for prohibitive rates charged for lumber. Wages are uniformly high.

NEW THEOLOGICAL COLLEGE.

Presbyterian Will Establish in British Columbia Next Year.

Montreal, Que., June 12.—Dr. Somerville, of Toronto, who has been in town to receive the Presbyterian church board of trustees, western section, since the retirement of Alex. Ward, has been selected by the committee of the assembly on the trusteeship for the post of permanent treasurer. This decision is practically certain to be accepted by the assembly. In addition to which the committee will recommend the appointment of a field officer to the congregations with a view to promote the extension of the church. The name of Rev. A. Gordon, of Toronto, has been mentioned for the office. After a long discussion the assembly approved the establishment of a theological college in British Columbia to open session in the summer of 1908. In response to overtures from the west, it was decided to appoint a special mission superintendent for British Columbia. At present, one superintendent has charge of both the Alberta and British Columbia mission. Principal Ferguson announced that Dr. R. E. Welch would accept the chair of apologetics in Montreal Presbyterian college. Principal Ferguson expressed his sincere regret that in an entirely unpremeditated way he had made certain remarks regarding an honorable member of the assembly (Dr. S. Edrich), and so unpleasant episode ended.

NICARAGUANS CAPTURE A TOWN

Mexico City, June 12.—Nicaragua and Salvador are at war. Late this afternoon Dr. Manuel Delgado, minister to Mexico from Salvador, received the following telegram from President Figueroa:

"San Salvador, June 11.—This morning the revolutionists captured the port of Amoyuta. They were commanded by Gen. Manuel Rivera, and came from Corinto on the gunboat Montecristo owned by the president of Nicaragua. In this manner Zelaya complies with the treaty of peace of Amoyuta, which was entered into with the intervention of the American government. The nearest Salvadoran troops were at Sonoma about 45 miles by rail. It is believed that Salvadoran troops have been ordered to the captured port and that a naval battle has already been fought. It is thought that the bombardment of Amoyuta is the beginning of the great struggle in Central America which has been so long brewing. Amoyuta is but a few hours from San Jose de Guatemala, which is believed to be Zelaya's objective. In case this supposition proves true, President Chorrera of Guatemala and Figueroa of Salvador will have to fight both from within and without for a strong revolutionary party will help the Nicaraguans in each republic.

Midwestern's Capes Found.

Montreal, June 12.—Eleven men of the United States navy, comprising six midshipmen and five seamen, who left Discovery Landing at the expedition grounds shortly after midnight on a launch of the battleship Minnesota, are missing and it is believed that the launch with the 11 men on board, has gone to the bottom of Hampton Roads. The missing men, Midshipmen Philip H. Field of Denver, Colo.; Wm. H. Stevenson, Newbern, N. C.; Franklin H. Holden, Newcastle, Del.; H. Holden, Portage, Wis.; Henry Clay Martin, Jr., Jackson, Ohio; Walter Carl Ulrich, Milwaukee, Wis.; Seamen R. H. Johnson, New York; Jesse Conn, Louisville, Ky.; F. R. Plumber, Malden, W. S.; Harley Van Dusen, Grand Rapids, Geo. W. Hall, Neenah, Wis. A launch was found floating near here today and as the last seen of the launch was as it pulled out from the expedition pier, officers of the fleet have given up all hope of ever seeing the men. Tonight it was stated authoritatively that the navy officials had absolute knowledge of the identity of the steamer which ran down the launch and that the arrest of the crew of the steamer was expected to follow.

The accident caused great excitement. An investigation has been ordered by Rear Admiral Evans. At midnight the following information was received from the flagship Connecticut, basing on the disaster in Hampton Roads last night: "Launch from the Minnesota lost about 12:30 a.m. this morning while returning from the expedition pier. Six midshipmen and the launch crew of five are thought to have been drowned. Captains ten midshipmen were found floating in the harbor tonight. Opinions are that launch was run down by a steamer."

MONTREAL WEDDING.

Montreal, June 12.—The wedding took place today at St. James Church of Miss Winifred, daughter of William Wainwright, of the C.T.R. to Arthur Bernard Crompton, of St. Stephen, N.B. Canon Edmond performed the ceremony.

YORKSHIREMEN MEET.
A gathering of the Yorkshiremen of Edmonton took place last night in the Cecil. The gathering was an informal one, the form of a banquet with an elaborate program of songs and readings from British poets, especially those who have in later years given expression to the spirit of imperialism. Among those who took part were Mr. George Munro, who has given several fine old ballads and Mr. Wm. Sutherland who read some excellent selections from Shelley. The gathering was eminently patriotic and the speeches were marked with a warm love for the motherland and hope for the lasting integrity of the overseas Dominions.
